

Some Highs and Lows in Vocabulary

On a separate sheet of paper folded in quarters, write the following words on the upper half if they have meaning of elevation; write words on the bottom half of the paper if they have a low or degrading connotation. Write them on the left side if you think they have a negative connotation and on the right side if you think they are positive in meaning. There is at least one word that fits in the middle. Some words may have both a positive and negative connotation.
